More Census Trouble.

There is trouble over the statistics taken of the manufacturers in Chester county under the supervision of D. Smith Talbot. The official was notified Friday that a man named J. B. Smith had been sent to West Chester from the Philadelphia office to complete the work.

The enumerator of manufacturers of Chester county was Albert Swing, of Coatesville, but this work has not been accepted by the office, for the reason that it was not complete in detail, this being due either to an oversight on the part of the enumerators or the design of the manufacturers.

It is also trouble over the statistics taken of the enumerators of Springdale and four enumerators have been notified by the office of Supervisor John W. Smith, of West Chester, that they must notice the order, and that they will take summary action.

A canal connecting the Mediterranean with the Red Sea existed nearly 5000 years before the Christian era. Its length was ninety-two miles.

DOYLESTOWN.

It has been a number of years since the political situation in Bucks county has presented so many interesting features as during the present campaign. It is believed here that matters are adjusted in satisfactory shape, and that the Republican party in the county of Bucks will be the victors in the coming election. It is also believed that while the Republican convention to be held here on Monday will be a large gathering there will be no demonstration against the present members of Assembly at least not to the extent of attempting to nominate new men. There is no doubt but that matters looked a little squally a week ago, and it would have required but little to precipitate a serious fight, even involving the District Attorney matter. Party leaders here attribute much of the bad feeling to the mugwump papers that have been casting aspersions at the so-called Quay faction in the county, but the journals referred to have been warned to keep quiet and the opponents of the Assembly have taken a dispassionate view of the situation and have determined that nothing is to be gained by a fight within the party. Something of a sensation has been created throughout the county by the publication of the circular addressed to John L. DuBois, Esq., candidate for District Attorney, and the circular was first interpreted to mean that there had been an organization of the Quay men, and that a storm was brewing. It appears, however, that Mr. DuBois launched the circular on his own responsibility, though he may have been advised by others to pursue that course. The publication of the article led to a discussion of the legal aspect of the case, and rumors were abroad to the effect that DuBois would be prosecuted for violation of an Act of Assembly prohibiting the printing and circulating of documents of that character when anonymous. This added some fuel to the flames, and was followed by the declaration of C. Mayne, of Bristol, ex-Sheriff Alonzo Nicholas, of Doylestown, and John G. Weinberger, of Millford, would enter the Assembly, in the light of the statements were quite as surprising to the men who had first seriously contemplated opposition to the Assembly as they were to the friends of Messrs. Edwards, Winner and Wilkinson. To cut the story short, neither Mr. Mayne nor Mr. DuBois were ever considered prominent factors in the proposed opposition to the Assembly, and in the light of the statements were quite as surprising to the men who had first seriously contemplated opposition to the Assembly as they were to the friends of Messrs. Edwards, Winner and Wilkinson. Special Correspondence from Near-by Towns.

TULLYTOWN.

At the present writing it looks as though there would be a general exodus of the residents of Tullytown and vicinity on the occasion of the excursion to Atlantic City under the auspices of the Tullytown Castle, K. G. E. The committee in charge of this outing is made up as follows: Frank Hogehead, Henry Lovett, M. D. Bond, W. J. Steiner, and O. E. Chamberlain. Special efforts have been made by the committee to insure the comfort of the patrons of this excursion. No extra but Pennsylvania Railroad standard passenger coaches will be placed in the train and no tickets received except those issued by the committee. This together with the special provisions taken by the management will ensure a pleasant trip on which one can take all the members of his family with the certainty that they will not be exposed to the roughness and routine so often prevalent in affairs of this kind. Arrangements have been made for music upon the boat so that dancing will be a feature of the river trips both ways. Those who have not the boat should not too often fail to take advantage of this chance of a day's pleasure.

FALLINGTON.

Among the Sunday visitors in the village were Miss Jennie B. Moore and T. G. Hawke, of Philadelphia, at M. W. Moore's.

George, infant son of Joseph M. Balam died Monday morning. Burial on Wednesday. Interment in Hicokside burying ground.

Our public schools will open on Monday, September 3, with the following teachers: High school, Clarence Gordon; Grammar school, Miss Hunter; Intermediate school, Miss Wright; Primary school, Miss Rohr.

The Penn Valley church held their harvest home in Sickle's woods on Wednesday last. The attendance was very large.

More people to get supper than could be supplied. The Fullington ball team played the Manor team in the afternoon on the grounds adjoining the woods, with a score of 20-4 in favor of the home team.

Joseph Adams, colored, living near Oxford Valley, was arrested on Friday and lodged in jail. He is said to have attempted to cut some one with a knife. His arrest left six children without any provision for maintenance. They were found in a starving condition by the neighbors and taken to the almshouse on Tuesday.

Politics have been as quiet as everything else in the village usually is, until last week, when sample copies of the various county papers were sent to the voters. They caused quite some agitation and will no doubt be the cause of many more attending the convention than otherwise would have done so. The present outlook is that Messrs. Winner, Wilkinson and Edwards will not have the majority of votes in this district, as a great many are against the nomination or election of them, and should they be nominated our large Republican majority will be decreased considerably.

MULMEVILLE.

Rev. Collector Croswen was making his rounds last week.

George Kross, of Bristol, is a frequent visitor about town.

Howard Douglas and family spent Sunday with relatives in Bristol.

The trolley line appears to be doing a good passenger business these pleasant autumn days.

Jose G. Webster had his wheat threshed last week. Clockwork, of Fallington, did the work.

The trees in Webster's pear orchard are loaded almost to the breaking point of an excellent quality.

Mrs. O. C. Keen returned to her home in Philadelphia last week after a pleasant visit with relatives in this vicinity.

The Mulmeville Pinechuck Club holds sessions almost every night. Some of the players have become quite expert at the game.

The interior of the High School building of this place presents a greatly improved appearance, as a result of the work done by our artistic painter, Edward McElwee. "Mac" is a good workman and deserves great credit for the manner in which he finishes up buildings of all kinds.

Quite a number of property owners of Mulmeville and vicinity have surplus land which would be available for factory sites of various kinds, but they are so near sighted in their policy that they cannot see what would be a benefit to themselves as well as the community at large. If the proposed trolley from Trenton to Philadelphia passes over the Trenton and Mulmeville Road, and there is every reason to believe that it will do so, there will be a boom in business of all kinds and the land will rapidly increase in value; and with a few additional manufacturers located in our midst, Mulmeville would come out of the "rust" in which it has lain for nearly fifty years. By all means let our landowners throw out inducements for business enterprises to locate here. It will pay big in the end.

"Have by some surgeon Shylock on thy charge to stop his wounds lest he do bleed to death." People can bleed to death. The loss of blood weakens the body. It must follow that gain of blood gives the body strength. The strengthening effect of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is in large part due to its action on the blood-making glands and the increased supply of pure, rich blood it produces. It is only when the blood is impoverished and impure that disease finds a soil in which to root. The "Golden Medical Discovery" puts the body on a fighting footing against disease, and so increases the vitality that disease is thrown off, and physical health perfectly and permanently restored. It has cured thousands who were hopeless and helpless, and who had tried all other means of cure without avail.

Twenty-one one-cent stamps to cover expenses of mailing only will obtain a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, in paper cover. Send thirty-one stamps if cloth binding is preferred. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
